Didn't get a front-row seat to the Fashion Week shows in New York? Not to worry – Bloomingdale's has all the fall trends in women's ready to wear, accessories, men's wear, and home fashion so you can stay up to date without leaving home. Take your pick from these hot fashion trends for fall:

For Her: Bold Color and Heavy Metal Attitude

This season's coats are all about bright colors that stand out, whether you're in a crowd or a snowstorm. Leather jackets go beyond black to bright red, pale pink, regal purple, and a range of blues from navy to blueberry and turquoise. Blazers and overcoats are going bold, too. You'll find jewel-tone choices like bright blue overcoats by Boss and Laundry, purple wool jackets from Ralph Lauren and Basler, and raspberry overcoats by Eileen Fisher and Canada Goose.

In addition to colors, metal studs will toughen up traditional and romantic looks this fall. Some designers are using studs with a light hand as accents on everything from tights to sunglasses, while others like Marc Jacobs, Diane von Furstenburg, and Vince Camuto are practically paving handbags, jackets, and pumps with tiny spikes.

If leather and heavy metal hardware aren't your cup of tea, designers are also serving up softer looks. Watch for lace overlays and accents on BCBGMaxAzria gowns, Tadashi Shoji knee-length dresses, and Nanette Lepore cocktail frocks, along with crystal, bead, and sequin embellishments on scarves, shoes, bags, and tops. Top it all off with chunky crystal-and-chain fashion jewelry for a hyper-feminine look.

For Him: Tailored and Tough

Casualwear with rough edges is hot this fall. Look for distressed denim from True Religion, Diesel Jeans, Buffalo, and Citizens of Humanity, and top it off with rustic sweaters like Ralph Lauren rag pullovers, PRPS Goods & Co. fair-isle cardigans, and flannel-front sweaters by Michael Kors. Lace up a pair of vintage-look Paul Smith wingtip boots or John Varvatos military-inspired boots to complete the look.

Men's suiting is more structured this season, with a nod to traditional British tailored styles in understated colors. Get a classic look that's on-trend and timeless with a Burberry London Milbury single-breasted suit in black or navy. Update your dress shirt wardrobe with solid-color, banker-stripe, and window-pane check choices by Armani. And tie it all together with highlight stripe skinny ties from HUGO.

For Home: Glamor, Whimsy, or Coziness

Turn your bedroom into an old-world retreat with floral and ethnic-print bedding by Sky, such as ikat-print duvet sets in trendy turquoise and brown, geometric block prints in teal and rust, and Far
